

About HON

The HON Company believes that a thoughtfully designed workspace sets the stage for better work, and a better life.

Since 1944, HON has been making office spaces work better by putting people first. Customers, dealers, employees, and community have always been the most important part of HON's sturdy foundation. And - like its reliable products - the promise to do things right has stood the test of time. A leading designer and manufacturer of workplace furniture - including chairs, desks, storage, tables, and workstations - HON is committed to trustworthy relationships, exceptional quality, thoughtful communication, and unwavering confidence.

From innovative educational environments to smart corporate collaborative zones to comfortable private home offices, HON goes above and beyond to design solutions for busy people in busy spaces. Solutions that inspire meaningful connection, peak productivity, fine-tuned focus, and engaged creativity is HON's enduring purpose and mission.

With award-winning designers, forward-thinking engineers, and a member culture that celebrates growth and well-being, HON never stops evolving what they do and what they stand for. A long-standing dedication to quality, hard work, and formidable partnerships are the keys to both the past and present success of HON, and its future looks bright with a keen focus on community and global sustainability, employee inclusivity, and innovation-driven product enhancement.
